Final Project Documentation Requirements

Submit a detailed Word document describing the system's processes and design elements.

The document should include a cover page (including the course number and name, team number and name, team members' names, and project title), a table of contents, narratives explaining the purposes and functions or processes, appropriate screenshots, and corresponding program codes.